

ceses event

IN COOPERATION WITH
LEADERS MAGAZINE

PRAŽSKÁ
bezpečnostní konference

The VII Prague Security Conference was held on Friday 11 November at the National Technical Library. This year it was devoted to the topic "The EU, NATO and Russia after 20 years. What next?"

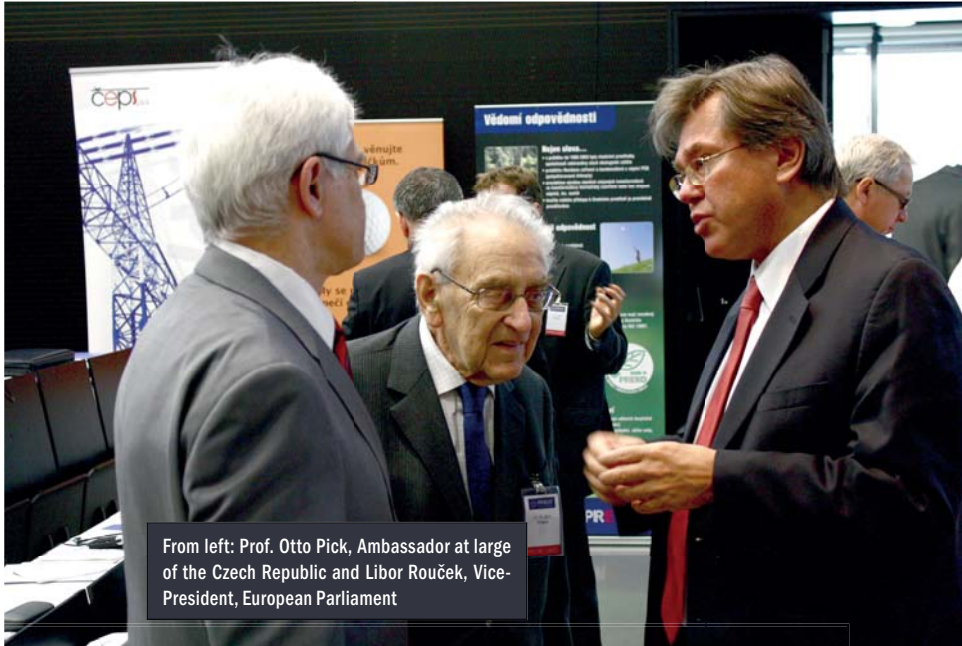

The conference, organized by the Center for Security Policy, has met with great interest and more than 300 applicants representing a wide spectrum of professionals, government and academia have registered so as to attend it.

From left: Janusz Onyszkiewicz, President, Euro-Atlantic Association of Poland, former Vice-President, European Parliament (2004–2007) and former Minister of Defence of Poland (1991–1993, 1997–2000), Miloš Balabán, Head of the Center for Security Policy, CESES FSU UK, Valery Fedorov, Director General, All-Russian Public Opinion Research Center (VCIOM), and Prof. Christian Hacke, Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn

VII Prague Security Conference

THE EU, NATO AND RUSSIA AFTER 20 YEARS. WHAT NEXT?

From left: Prof. Otto Pick, Ambassador at large of the Czech Republic and Libor Rouček, Vice-President, European Parliament

Mirko Hempel, Director, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung Prague and Dorota Kafara, Project Manager, Institute for Eastern Studies, Warsaw

94

Jiří Parkmann, Head of OSCE Office in Prague

Alexander Duleba, Director of Research, Slovak Foreign Policy Association

Valery Fedorov, Director General, All-Russian Public Opinion Research Center

From Left: Libor Rouček, Vice-President, European Parliament, Alexander Duleba, Director of Research, Slovak Foreign Policy Association, Lubomír Zaorálek, Vice-Chairman, Chamber of Deputies of the Parliament, Prof. Michal Reiman, FSV UK, and Daniel Košťoval, Director of the Security Policy Department, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, CR

From left: Miloš Balabán, Head of the Center for Security Policy, CESES FSV UK, Jiří Linke, Attorney Solil, Linke, Richter, and Mrs. Marie Kousalíková, Mayor, Prague 6

From left: Andrey Konoplyanik, Professor, Gubkin Russian State University of Oil and Gas, Consultant to the Board Gazprombank, JSC, Milan Hovorka, Deputy Minister of Industry and Trade, Mikhail Delyagin, Director, Institute on Problems of Globalization (IPROG), and Stanislaw Ciosek, Chairman, Council of the Polish-Russian Chamber of Trade and Industry, Secretary General, Eastern Club for Support of Economic Cooperation with the East, former Polish ambassador to the USSR and Russian Federation (1989-1996) and foreign policy adviser to Mr. Aleksander Kwaśniewski, President of Poland (1997-2005)

IN COOPERATION WITH
LEADERS MAGAZINE

 more photos and electronic version available on www.leadersmagazine.cz

Auditorium

Libor Rouček, Vice-President, European Parliament

Lubomír Zaorálek, Vice-Chairman, Chamber of Deputies of the Parliament

Janusz Onyszkiewicz, President, Euro-Atlantic Association of Poland, former Vice-President, European Parliament (2004-2007) and former Minister of Defence of Poland (1991-1993, 1997-2000)

Prof. Christian Hacke, Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn

From left: Stanislaw Ciosek, Chairman, Council of the Polish-Russian Chamber of Trade and Industry, Secretary General, Eastern Club for Support of Economic Cooperation with the East, former Polish ambassador to the USSR and Russian Federation (1989-1996) and foreign policy adviser to Mr. Aleksander Kwaśniewski, President of Poland (1997-2005) and David Koubek, Czech Radio 1 - Radiožurnál

From left: H.E. Jan Pastwa, Ambassador of Poland, Miloš Balabán, Head of the Center for Security Policy, CESES FSV UK, Tomáš Chalupa, Minister of the Environment, and Mrs. Marie Kousalíková, Mayor, Prague 6

From left: Karel Hirman, Adviser to the Prime Minister of the Slovak Republic on Energy Security, Bratislava, Pavel Kavina, Director, Raw Materials and Energy Security Division, Ministry of Industry and Trade, and Jaroslav Ungerman, Member of the Board of Directors, First Czech-Russian Bank