Civil Society and New Forms of Governance in Europe – The Making of European Citizenship (CINEFOGO)

2005–2009

Principal Investigator: Martin Potůček

Within this Network of Excellence project under the 6th EU Framework Program, the CESES collaborated in a consortium of more than 40 universities and research centres. The mission of this network was to generate and disseminate findings about the development of citizenship and overlapping identities as well as to overcome civic apathies and social exclusion in Europe. Denmark's Roskilde University was the principal project coordinator. The CESES was the network's main coordinator for activities aimed at an effective transfer of scientific evidence and best practices on to multiple target groups at various European Community levels; it was also the national coordinator for the Czech Republic.
