
Mental Health and Policy Research Training Program

2002–2007

Principal Investigator: Martin Potůček

The shared project of the CESES and The School of Public Health, University of California, Berkeley, aimed at implementing a high-profile programme of interdisciplinary study in the US for economists, sociologists, psychologists, physicians as well as postdoctoral researchers in other social and political sciences.